ATTENTION FELLOWS-IN-TRAINING! CALL FOR POSTERS!

Visit <http://inacc.org/id27.html> for submission details.

All current Indiana fellows in a cardiology training program are invited to present their research (past or present) during the poster session, scheduled for Saturday, October 30. Eligible posters may present recent data, case study or information that has been presented previously at a local or national meeting. The abstracts will be judged in advance to select the top two abstracts for oral presentation. The rest of the accepted abstracts will be presented as posters and judged at the poster presentation on Saturday, October 30. There are cash prizes for winners!

Visit <http://inacc.org/id27.html>

If you submit a case study:

1. Case reports should be of a rare, unusual, or unexpected finding in a patient;
2. The diagnosis should be known or the workup as complete as possible (all evidence as to the diagnosis should be included);
3. There should be a brief review of the literature including numbers of patients with similar findings/outcomes, risk factors, how it has been evaluated/treated, and outcomes where known;
4. The case should include as much follow-up as is available;
5. Pathology slides and supporting evidence should be included.

STATEMENT OF NEED

Cardiovascular (CV) disease is the leading health care problem throughout the world. In the United States alone, an estimated 70 million people have been diagnosed with one or more forms of CV disease, and over 910,000 Americans die from CV disease each year. The cardiac care team is increasingly asked to develop systems of care, the methods for which are not necessarily part of the traditional medical training. We are asked to do this better, faster, more efficiently and at a lower cost.

OVERALL GOAL

The overall goal of this program is to focus on achieving optimal patient outcomes and the performance of the healthcare provider by increasing learner competence in the areas of atrial fibrillation, acute coronary syndromes, aortic valve disease, cardiac risk factors, and health care reform implementation.

MEETING DESCRIPTION

LEARNER OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Apply a guideline-based approach to treat atrial fibrillation.
- Identify risk stratification for treating patients with ACS. Participate in the treatment of STEMI as a receiving or transfer hospital.
- Discuss all of the available therapies for aortic valve disease and appropriately refer patients for these treatments.
- Review the importance of the cardiovascular quality indicators as it pertains to the health care provider's practice.
- Recognize the impact of Health Care Reform at the National and State Levels.
- Recognize the risk factors for heart disease.
- Discuss strategies that have been shown to decrease hospital readmission and how to incorporate them into their practice.
- Describe practice viability options and implementation.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Adult Cardiologists, Pediatric Cardiologists, Cardiothoracic Surgeons, Cardiology Fellows-in-Training, Nurses, Nurse Practitioners, Clinical Nurse Specialists, Physician Assistants, Pharmacists

ACCF DISCLOSURE & COI POLICY STATEMENT

ACCF/Chapter committee members, faculty, staff and other individuals who are in a position to control the content of this activity are required to disclose all real or apparent conflicts of interest. All relevant potential conflicts of interest that are identified are thoroughly vetted through a process that includes course directors and appropriate peer review by education committee chairs/members, for fair balance, scientific objectivity and validity, patient care and safety recommendations. Full disclosure will be published in the syllabus.

GENERAL INFORMATION

ACCREDITATION

Physicians

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of the American College of Cardiology Foundation and the Indiana Chapter of the American College of Cardiology. The American College of Cardiology Foundation is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The ACCF designates this educational activity for a maximum of 5.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credits commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Nurses

American College of Cardiology Foundation is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

The ACCF designates this educational activity for a maximum of 5.5 continuing education hours. Requirement for successful completion is attendance at the program in its entirety and completing the evaluation tool.

While offering CME and CNE credits noted above, this program is not intended to provide extensive training or certification in the field.
